Frequently visit the Scholarship and Financial Aid Webpage of TSU

How many of you applied for Tennessee State University Foundation Scholarships? First deadline: Mar 22, 2013; Second deadline when the process was reopened: April 5, 2013.

Also, find more scholarships and internships featured on different TSU webpages by typing scholarship or internships into the Search box found at upper right hand corner of the main TSU webpage, <http://www.tnstate.edu>

2. <http://www.tnstate.edu/aeao/>

Do what you can—attend class regularly; be professional, polite, and courteous; seek out help from your instructor and from the university (tutorial programs); ask for help when you need it

A blog I maintain for TSU students, helping them find scholarships; we will discuss several scholarships from this blog you can try for

4. Look for local scholarships: organizations such as the Rotary Club, Elks Foundation, and churches are good sources for money. Ask “parents’ friends, the family you babysit for, and community business owners for any leads” (“Go to College for Free,” Seventeen, current issue, 131).

Write down organizations you are a member of; write down organizations your parents are a part of. Think unions; professional organizations or associations; churches, synagogues, or mosques; human resources offices at work, etc. Often, these organizations

Nonprofit jobs in Nashville

The Center for Nonprofit Management, (CNM) located in Nashville, TN, has a listing of jobs in the nonprofit sector. I found a job on here in the $75-90,000 range, so don't assume all non-profit jobs pay low wages.

<http://www.cnm.org/>

Here is the website for CNM.

Hint: write down 4 or 5 things you think are problems in the world. Is there an organization you can volunteer for or later work at that might address a particular problem you would like to see solved?

SCHOLARSHIP COACHING AVAILABLE FOR TSU STUDENTS

Mr. Mike Turner is also available to Tennessee State University students for Tiger Scholars scholarship coaching.

He can be emailed at mjturner@tnstate.edu

Also, students can set up Tiger Scholars coaching sessions by stopping by the SSC 123 computer lab and making an appointment.
